

94% of total CO2 emission excluding emission from industrial processes and wastes is related to energy consumption. Around 20% of total CO2 emission is from the households including private car and domestic waste. The remaining 80% is from the private and public sectors.